

Teeth for Children

Sodium fluoride, the magic chemical that helps prevent tooth decay in children, now is in general use throughout the country, President Truman was informed this week by officials of the American Dental Association. Virtually all dentists are using it to various extents, chiefly on school children.

"I'm mighty glad to hear that progress is being made," the president told a delegation led by Dr. Clyde M. Minges of Rocky Mount, N. C., president of the American Dental Association. "I've been very interested in sodium fluoride since the public health service first revealed its amazing qualities."

Then the President added with a smile:

"It would be a wonderful thing if we could shed our teeth when they start bothering us and grow a brand new set."

Truman promised to give "serious thought" to a proposal by Dr. Minges and his colleagues that he proclaim a national children's dental health day next February to stimulate greater interest in the care of teeth by school children and their parents.

NOTE: The Washington Merry-go-round on March 5 first reported the amazing progress of the public health service in using sodium fluoride to preserve children's teeth, and gave credit to Congressman Frank Keefe, Wisconsin Republican, for helping the public health service. It was reported that sodium fluoride would save about 50 per cent of the children's teeth from decay.

At that time the American Dental Association's journal was critical both of this column and the public health service for publishing this claim, but ADA officials now admit that painting children's teeth with sodium fluoride at proper intervals when under the age of 13 will preserve them in about 40 per cent of the cases.

'No War'—Clay

Powder-Keg-Sitting Gen. Lucius Clay expects the Russians to intensify the cold war, but to stop short of a shooting war.

Talking privately to visiting congressmen from the house armed services committee, Clay predicted that the Russians would haunt Europe with the specter of war, but would not fight their cause on the open battlefield. Their game is to stir up chaos and fear, as a breeding ground for Communism.

The general admitted, however, that a misfire in this delicate battle of nerves could easily precipitate a war.

Greatest factor holding Russia back is American air power, Clay said, despite the fact that he is a ground soldier.

"The Russians have more respect for our air power than some of us at home have," he declared.

The constant droning of the Berlin airlift in Russian ears has only increased that respect, he added, and, at the same time, impressed the rest of Europe. It is Clay's belief that Russia wants to test whether the airlift can survive the winter before backing down from the Berlin blockade.

Clay told the congressmen that the Communists are going from door to door in Berlin as systematically as magazine subscription salesmen, trying to scare individuals into the Communist camp. At night their threats are backed up with kidnappings and acts of terror, hundreds of individuals have disappeared forever behind the iron curtain.

Bouncing Bob Butler

For years controversy has raged inside the state department regarding the relative merits of the career and the political diplomat. Career diplomats resent the intrusion of ambassadors appointed because they have ponied up during a political campaign—and this resentment is sometimes justified. So also, political appointees resent the lack of imagination, the routine viewpoint of many career diplomats.

One political ambassador who got cuffed around at first is bouncing Bob Butler, the former St. Paul shipbuilder, who became U. S. ambassador to Australia.

Today, however, Butler is ambassador to Cuba and doing an A-1 job. Not only does he have the warmth and human quality which some career diplomats lack—and which Latin Americans love—but he has imagination. It was Butler who conceived the important idea of bringing President Prio of Cuba up to the United States on a good-will visit.

Good will between the United States and our Latin neighbors is something which needs a lot of working at. Since Statesman Sumner Welles got out of the state department it has been woefully neglected. But today, energetic, likable Bob Butler is doing a great job of warming up our good-neighbor policy—which is a lot more important than deciding who should sit where at dinner.

M. Henderson Dies In Local Blaze On Christmas Day

In a fire of undetermined origin, Myron C. Henderson, 61, was burned to death here on Christmas Day. Campbell volunteer firemen rushed to the home at Campbell and Central avenues and extinguished the blaze within 20 minutes.

"The fire probably started from a gas burner," said Fire Chief Jack Scott, "but it's hard to say. We found Henderson after the fire was under control. He was apparently overcome by smoke and unable to leave the building."

Two fire trucks responded to the call at 10:25 p.m. with 18 volunteer firemen. Damage to the home was estimated by Scott to be around $1000.

Henderson was rushed to the County Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival. Attendents said the body was blistered badly.

Relatives of Henderson were notified immediately by Coroner Tom Kilmartin and the body was taken to the Amos O. Williams mortuary in San Jose where funeral services were held Tuesday. Interment was at Oak Hill Memorial Park. He is survived by his daughters Dolores Larson, Mildred Hansen and a son, Frank M. Henderson, all of Fresno.

Two Campbell Men On Navy Leave Over Holidays

Duane Malone son of James Malone of 138 Kennedy Avenue and Robert Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Williamson, of 156 Sunnyside Avenue, were home over the Christmas holidays on leave from the U. S. Navy.

Both young men have recently completed the Aviation Fundamentals School and returned to Memphis, Tennessee to start 13 weeks of training in Aviation Metal Smith School.

Campbell High School Opens Six New Classrooms to Ease Greatly Congested Conditions

Six new classrooms will be ready for occupancy when the Campbell Union high school opens for classes on Monday, Jan. 3. Over $69,000 in new equipment has been installed in the new stations to ease the crowded conditions of the school, according to Principal Laurance Hill.

EQUIPMENT PROVIDED

"For the first time Campbell Union high will furnish to its pupils mechanical drawing equipment," said Hill. "One of the classrooms is a mechanical drawing laboratory. Prior to the completion of this room and the installation of the equipment the pupils had to furnish their own equipment at a cost of up to $25 and $30. Now the school will lend all of the necessary materials."

The five other rooms for the high school will be used for classes in algebra, French, English, reading and orientation. With the completion of these classrooms there are now 35 rooms in the school occupied by 972 students.

"We were pretty overcrowded at the school up to now, but with the addition of these rooms, the situation is almost under control," remarked the principal.

THREE SOURCES FOR MONEY

Money for the construction of the classrooms came from three sources according to Hill. Funds were secured from the regular district taxes, the Christmas Tree fund which provided $23,340 from the State Board of Supervisors, and $25,000 plus from the cumulative building fund.

Teachers who will instruct in the new classrooms are Willard Lecroy, Steve Casaleggio, Mrs. Vivian Gregory, Mrs. Doris Siaton, Mrs. Marian Winston and Mrs. Mildred Mendia.

Other improvements in the high school during the holidays included added dressing room space for the girls gym. Extra space was provided also in the boys dressing rooms and was completed a week ago. The cafeteria was also renovated.

ALMADEN MUST DECIDE

"Whether we'll need additional buildings in 1949 is largely dependent upon the outcome of the Almaden election on Tuesday, January 4," said Hill. "If the voters decide to vote to keep their children in the Campbell schools then they will help support our schools. If they vote no then the 91 Almaden pupils will have to go to other schools than those in Campbell. If this occurs then we won't need to build in 1949. If, however, they decide to send their children here then we might find it necessary to do some building or improving in the coming year."

Prowlers Enter Campbell Theater On Xmas Weekend

Perhaps it was the Christmas spirit that made the prowlers who broke into the Campbell Theater Sunday night decide not to take anything from the front office. But whatever the motive, all that was missing from the theater according to manager Steve Butler, was a flashlight, a pencil, and some three cent stamps.

The prowlers entered the theater through a ventilator, said Butler. They discovered some keys in Butler's desk, but left them all intact after sorting through them. The only clue was a footprint outside the theater.

Postmaster Ira H. Grim stated that the 1948 Christmas business was double that of the year 1947.

Local Grange 333 Gets Large Crowd At Last Meeting

Over 60 members turned out to close the business and social year of 1948 for the Orchard City Grange 333 at its meeting Tuesday night in the IOOF hall. Ending his third term as worthy master of the Grange was Herbert Shadle.

Guest speaker was Rev. Lawrence Osborne, pastor of the First Methodist Church, who gave a Christmas message to the group. Also on the program were lecturer Mrs. Nellie Rutherford and music students Sylvia Reed, Rudy Foglia and Miss Jeanette Godes.

Installation of all officers will take place on Saturday, Jan. 8, according to Robert Wurfer, reporter. The date of the Home Economics Club meeting has been changed to January 13 at the home of Mrs. Lear in Saratoga. New chairman for the Home Economics club will be Mrs. Mae Walsh, who will replace Mrs. H. Shadle.

Campbell Area to get Lights; PG&E Promises Installation For New Districts in July

Sixty-seven new street lights are scheduled for installation in Campbell in 1949, revealed L. E. Means of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. Word was received in Campbell this week that the county Board of Supervisors had approved the Chamber of Commerce's request to install lights in the new districts and streets of this area.

The project, which the local Chamber of Commerce under Means chairmanship has been working on since June, hit a snag for several months due to legal procedures and technicalities, explained Pacific

Gas and Electric representative Leonard Cronkite who worked with the townsmen to get the lighting into effect. Before lights could be installed the area in need had to be included in the old Campbell lighting district. After they were placed in the Campbell district the plan was forwarded to the county Board of Supervisors for approval. Now the project need only go to the State Board of Equalization to complete the annexation of the proposed lighting areas.

Out of town visitors at the grange meeting were Deputy Carl and Mrs. Ryzer of Coyote Grange, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Buck of Mt. Hamilton Grange, San Jose Grange Master Ida Skow, Mr. and Mrs. A. Breeding and mother from Cupertino Grange and Levi Richman from the Gilroy Grange.

NEW DISTRICT BOUNDARIES

"Boundaries of the district with the annexation of the new areas completely encircles the old Campbell lighting district," said Cronkite. "The lights will be installed starting approximately from the corner of Rosemary Lane and Eden Ave. and running west about 1200 feet to east of the San Jose-Los Gatos road, just north of Hamilton. Then they will go south almost to Dry Creek and then again turn west towards the Los Gatos Creek including all of Arroyo and Budd avenues. The line of installation then jogs north and includes California, Milton, and Carlyn avenues and goes back again into Rosemary and Eden."

LIGHTS ON IN JULY

The lights will be turned on for the first time on or around July 1, said the PG&E official. "We must wait until after July because the fiscal year for the county starts on that date." The annexation as approved by the Board of Supervisors allows for the new lighting system on its 1949 budget which goes into effect July 1.

Cost of the new lights will be figured on the basis of operation and maintenance only. The PG&E owns and installs the lights. Approximate cost per year to the new assessment district will be $2300, said Cronkite.

The lights will be like the more recent additions installed in Campbell. They are the latest type of new pendant luminaires and are entirely enclosed. "The lights will give a maximum of efficiency of light on the pavement with a minimum of glare to the motorists and pedestrians," promises Cronkite.

Many Shaveless Days to Come As Registration Nears For Whiskerino Contestants

By ALICE JOY GOLDER

"Mirror, mirror on the wall, who's got the blackest beard of them all?" Yes, it's Whiskerino time again and the men of Campbell are again challenged by Chairman Homer Hyde to see who can grow the grizzliest, blackest, thickest, and most beard-like beard in time for the annual Old Settler's Day celebration in February.

Contest time starts on Monday, Jan. 10, for any and all men of the town. To be eligible to sign up for the Whiskerino contest, the entrant must appear a one of the five entry stations cleanly shaven. Then after he signs up he can relax, throw away the razors and enjoy a fuzzy face for 44 long wonderful shaveless days!

Contest stations where entrants can sign up are the Water company office, Penhall's Barber Shop, Grizzle's Barber Shop, Midway barber shop or the Personality Haircuts barber shop at Virginia City.

Prize for the best beard will be awarded at the annual American Legion, Campbell Post 596, sponsored dance at the high school auditorium on Tuesday, Feb. 22. Judging will be on the basis of applause.

Last year's winner was S. A. Wirth, Jr., who was awarded a novel figurine 10 inches high of a grizzled prospector. He competed with 34 other entrants for the grand prize.

Although Jan. 10 is the registration day for beard-hopeful men, they can sign up at the official stations at a later date. This means, of course, a handicap for the late entrants but it's possible if they can't make it on registration day, says Hyde.

Campbell Queen To Rule Festival

Campbell's most popular girl will be Queen of Old Settler's Day, according to Forrest Reese, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. The popularity of the girl will be determined by the number of tickets her friends buy from her for the annual Old Settler's Day dance on February 22.

The dance is under the auspices of the American Legion, Campbell Post 598. Further plans are still pending but Reese is sure the contest will be highly competitive. This will be the first Old Settler's Day since 1892 where a queen will reign over the festivities. Rules for the contest and deadline will be announced later, said Reese.

STORES TO CLOSE

Another big weekend and holiday is in store for the merchants and businessmen of Campbell, all of whom will close Saturday and Sunday.

C of C SEEKS OLDEST TOWN AND COUNTY RESIDENTS TO AID IN GALA FEBRUARY CELEBRATION

Finding the oldest residents of Campbell and Santa Clara County will be the task of the Chamber of Commerce in connection with the annual Old Settler's Day celebration here. President Laurance Hill announced this contest as one of the new features of the annual affair at the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors meeting Monday night at 273 E. Campbell Ave.

Plans are under way now to find the old settlers of this area and when discovered they will be brought to Campbell to take part in the local extravaganza in February.

Members of the Board also discussed the possibility of extending Old Settler's Day into a three day celebration, according to Forrest Reese, secretary. If this is done, the affair will open on Sunday, Feb. 20 and go through Tuesday, Feb. 22, ending with the annual American Legion Post dance in the high school auditorium. The directors will decide on the extension of the annual fete at their next meeting.

Homer Hyde was appointed to head the Whiskerino contest for Old Settler's Day. The directors also appointed Hill and Reese to represent them at the Bay Area Council dinner at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco Thursday, Jan. 13.

A hospital district for Campbell was again under discussion at the meeting. Although no definite plans were made the directors sent Secretary Reese to Los Gatos to

Mrs. Keesling Dies At Age of 85, Funeral Today

An old resident of Santa Clara Valley, Mrs. Minnie Keesling, 85, died Tuesday night at a San Jose rest home.

Services will be held today at 1:30 p.m. in the Darling-Fischer Garden Chapel. The Rev. Lawrence J. Osborne of the Campbell Methodist Church will officiate. Interment will be in Oak Hill Memorial Park.

Surviving Mrs. Keesling are sons Russell F. Keesling; Archie Keesling, former Campbell resident now in Hawaii; Joseph Keesling of Campbell, and daughter Mrs. Fern D. Smith of Hayward. Seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive.

Mrs. Keesling was the widow of Charles F. Keesling who died in 1943 at the age of 81. Mr. and Mrs. Keesling had been married nearly 59 years. Mrs. Keesling came to San Jose in 1900 and lived in the area most of the time since then. All of her children were raised in Santa Clara Valley.

CORRECTION

In the Burnett Appliance advertisement appearing in The Campbell Press Shopping News dated December 30, 1948 and The Campbell Press date of December 31, 1948, appears the line "10% off on All Items."

Due to a typographical error the line should have read "10% off on all items—Fair Trade Items excepted."

The old year is breathing out its last hours in a hush of expectancy. But in that quiet we know that there are horns waiting to be sounded, bells waiting to be rung, hearts waiting to be lifted with bright new hopes. May 1949 be a happy New Year for you!

Baby 1949 To Get Big Welcome By Many Campbell Families As Holiday Season's Climax Arrives

This is the season for celebration. It's New Year's Eve and many Campbell residents are planning to give or attend gala parties to round out the December festivities. Others will plan on relaxing at home and quietly welcome the new year. Then there are the grandmothers and grandfathers who must act as baby sitters this weekend while the young folks are away. In such capacity are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bohnett who will entertain their grandson Charles Scott Roberts while Mr. and Mrs. Roberts are vacationing in New York.

Awaiting Young Mr. 1949 at home will be Mr. and Mrs. William A. Gould, 280 Latimer Ave., who have had enough season's activities to want to spend the last day of the year near the fireside. Also at home will be Dr. and Mrs. Paul A. Werthmann.

DINNER GUESTS

Dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Ray Davis will visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Drummond, 182 N. Carlyn Ave. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Longfellow will go to San Francisco for a party there.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cantoni will gather at their 86 Milton Ave. home for dinner and await the New Year. Coming down from Napa will be Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Yates, sister and brother-in-law of Mrs. Cantoni. Also at the dinner will be Mrs. Matilda Cantoni and Dr. C. R. Crandall, Mrs. Cantoni's father who has been visiting the family.

AT HOME

New Year's Eve will be at home, says Mrs. C. L. Ackerman with emphasis. Her family has had quite a busy month and will greet baby '49 at their home. First there was the Footlighters' play this month and then Christmas. Final activities included a trip to Chico Wednesday where the Ackermans witnessed the wedding of Miss Dorothy Beatty of Campbell to Alfred O. Mauseth of San Jose. At home once again, the Ackermans plan on staying there.

KID'S PARTIES

The Barkers at 215 N. Carlyn Ave. already had their party. It was given December 21 for their daughter Sherianne who was six years old. Twelve kids in the neighborhood turned out to wish the little Barker miss a happy birthday and a Merry Christmas. Mr. and Mrs. V. LeRoy Howell of 208 N. Carlyn also had a kids party. Santa was there too and brought the youngsters all kinds of gifts and goodies.

TELEVISION OWNERS

Aren't they the lucky ones? That is Mr. and Mrs. James Brand. They will eagerly await New Year's day and then go down to their furniture store and comfortably watch the East-West football game on one of their television sets. Game time is at 2 p.m., if you're lucky enough to know the Brands!

Taking the week-end festivities in their stride and also in their home will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Herschbach. Wouldn't be a bit surprised if those senior scouts dropped in on them, though.

Home at 730 Ridgeley Drive after spending the holidays with relatives are Mr. and Mrs. Franklin MacDonald and daughter Susan. Also away for the holidays in Fresno were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hedstrom and son Ronnie.

OFF TO THE CITY

To the city of the Golden Gate went Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson to visit relatives and celebrate the New Year there.

Visiting here for the Yuletide season was former Campbell resident Bud Whitmore. He stayed with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Lobrovich.

Back home after a nine-day motor trip to Phoenix, Arizona, are Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lobrovich. Mrs. Lobrovich said the trip, and for the benefit of the wet Californians, the weather, was beautiful and clear. They took daughter Marie with them and brought back daughter Eva. Eva will stay with the family for New Year's and then will fly back to Arizona Sunday where she will return to Arizona State college.

WELCOME BACK

Friends will be glad to welcome back William Shephard, sixth grade teacher at Campbell Union grammar school. The school teacher had to leave school a week before the holidays for an operation. But he managed to return the day school let out to see the kids enjoy their Christmas fun. He'll be back with his group when school opens up January 3.

And so the season goes. Everyone is busy putting the last touches on old man '48 and preparing to receive, in one way or another, young Mr. 1949. But no matter how the weekend is spent here's wishing everyone a Happy, Happy New Year.

Mrs. Luella Ryan and her son James went down to San Jose for their big Christmas dinner so will probably be at home on New Year's Eve. They were the guests of cousins Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Baird.

There was a full house at the William Burnett home this season. As their guests they had Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Allee and two daughters from Santa Maria, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Thomson of Los Gatos, Eunice Burnett from Oakland, marine son Richard Burnett stationed at Oceanside, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomson and son from Sunnyvale and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Newberry from Yreka.

MARRIED . . . Mrs. Dorothy Sullivan, 27, daughter of the late "Babe" Ruth and her new husband, Dominick Pirone, 30. The marriage followed a double divorce, Mrs. Sullivan divorcing Daniel J. Sullivan of New York, Pirone divorcing Lucy Bruno Pirone of the same city. The newly-weds plan to live in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Miss Smith Becomes Bride Of Stephen Ridgely, Jr. In Wedding Ceremony At St. Lucy's Church

In an afternoon ceremony at St. Lucy's Catholic church, Miss Mary Dolores Smith became the bride of Stephen Schley Ridgely, Jr. on Sunday, Dec. 19.

A large group of friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Denis Kennelly. Musical selections were presented by Miss Ruth Cousins, vocalist and Mrs. Mary Grim, organist.

The church was decorated with white stock and chrysanthemums for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Frederick Harold Smith, chose for her wedding ensemble a white slipper satin gown styled with a fitted bodice with a double peplum in the back and a full skirt which ended in a long train. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a crown of seed pearls and she carried a white prayer book with a single orchid.

SISTER HONOR ATTENDANT

As honor attendant for her sister, Miss Regina Smith wore a pink taffeta dress styled with a full peplum. Her French bouquet was of yellow roses, violets and stocks with the roses repeated in her headband.

Bridesmaids were Margaret Smith and Peggie Smith, who wore aqua taffeta gowns identical to the maid of honor's and their French bouquets were made with pink roses and matching roses in the headband.

The groom was attended by his brother, John Ridgely, as best man and the duties of ushers were performed by John and Francis Smith.

The bride's mother was attired in a black crepe dress which was complemented by a flowered hat and she wore a pink camellia corsage. The bridegroom's mother chose a blue crepe dress with brown accessories and a white camellia corsage.

Spruce boughs and holly berries decorated the Campbell Country

Woman's Club for the reception and gardenias and bouvardias encircled the four tiered cake.

CARMEL HONEYMOON

When Mr. and Mrs. Ridgely left on their wedding trip to Carmel and the Monterey Peninsula, the bride selected a brown suit with green accessories and an orchid corsage for her going away costume.

The new Mrs. Ridgely is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Harold Smith of Campbell. She attended Campbell schools and is now in her senior year at San Jose State College.

The bridegroom, a former member of the Army Air Forces, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen S. Ridgely, Sr., of Campbell. He was graduated from the Charlotte Hall Military Academy in Maryland and attended San Francisco State college and the Drew School in San Francisco. He is now a senior at San Jose State College.

The young couple will make their home in Campbell and will continue their studies at San Jose State.

Campbell Couples Celebrate 1949 With Gala Party

New Year's Eve was celebrated early by several Campbell couples. A party was held at the Hamill-Gardens attended by Mr. and Mrs. Harley Jones, Marguerite Jones, Tom Blackman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeRose, Janice Freeman and Vic Orlando.

Miss Jones is visiting here from Long Beach, California. She is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Jones and will return to Southern California Sunday evening.

Labor Relations Expert Added To UCLA Faculty

Because of an increasing demand for personnel and industrial relations experts, the College of Business Administration at the University of California at Los Angeles has recently appointed Robert Tannenbaum to its staff.

This was announced today by Dean Neil H. Jacoby, who pointed out that during recent years the need for intelligent policies and constructive action in the field of personnel management and industrial relations "has been increasingly recognized" by the general public.

"This recognition," he said, "stems from a growing appreciation of the importance of the roles played in our modern industrial society by individuals and by groups of individuals."

Tannenbaum holds the rank of lecturer of personnel management and industrial relations. He will teach basic courses and held direct research of graduate students in this major field of study, which

1. When the operator says "thank you" as she handles your call, she is of course following a telephone tradition for courtesy. And every day, up and down the Coast, those words are repeated more than four million times by local and long distance operators who are—as always—doing everything they can to give prompt, cheerful service.

2. These are busy days in the West's telephone offices . . . more equipment is handling more calls, twenty million of them each day. And service generally is better, you'll notice. There's relatively little wait for the dial tone. Operators are able to answer more promptly in most places. Long distance calls usually go through in two minutes or less.

3. He's "dropping a line" for another new telephone . . . since V-J Day more than a million have been added on the Coast. We're putting in still more thousands every week. And telephone people . . . operators, installers, service representatives . . . all are doing their level best to welcome our new customers in their usual friendly and helpful way.

4. As 1948 ends, Pacific Telephone adds another "thank you"—for your patronage. We deeply appreciate the understanding of those waiting for service. We are doing our best to provide the telephones the West needs and to make your telephone increasingly valuable to you.

TENACITY PAYS OFF

I READ the other day how well Howard Lindsay was paid for the seventeen days of work during which he collaborated with Russell Crouse on Life With Father. The figure given was something like $250,000. But let's look into this.

I go back some years to the time when I first knew Howard Lindsay. We were both on the stage, going out in road companies, at a pitiful money reward. We didn't think so, at the time, however, for we were both enjoying our work. Money came second. After I found out that acting was not what I wanted, Howard went on, stuck closely to the stage. He went from small acting roles to property man, to assistant stage manager of road companies, to stage manager, to a director of Broadway shows, to writing plays and after awhile getting one produced; then to acting more important roles than he had ever dared to dream he would—or did he? He probably did, at that.

Howard's first play was produced by George Tyler for whom Howard had worked faithfully as stage manager, assistant director, and director. His faithfulness to duty created in Mr. Tyler a strong desire to see Howard get ahead. He liked this chap with so much integrity. The play succeeded, and from there Howard in time stepped right on up to the top.

During the years he was climbing, there were times when he didn't know where the money was coming from for next week's meals. I've known him to go through every sort of discouragement, including having others dependent upon him for living expenses—though I never knew him to look upon that responsibility as a discouragement. But during all the years I've known him, I've never known him to waver in what he wanted to do, I've never known him to consider deserting the theatre.

Has it paid off? Well, you know the answer, and you know that it has paid off, even though his close relative, his Uncle Sam, has stood right there looking over his shoulder and reaching out his hand for a large share of Howard's profits in order to finance wars and to meet other responsibilities. But whatever Howard pays to the government, he will always be rich, for he will always be doing the kind of work he loves.

As a result of the money gained from a recent rummage sale, the scouts will take a snow trip to Longbarn sometime in February.

P. G. and E. adds 404,000 new electrical horsepower in 1948

and 1½ million more on the way

Record power growth. P. G. and E. began building new power plants immediately after V-J Day. 404,000 new horsepower were installed this year. 1½ million more will be added in the next 3 years.

$300,000,000 already invested. Most of the money for expansion comes from invested savings of thousands of people—many of them your friends and neighbors. They are the real P.G. and E. builders.

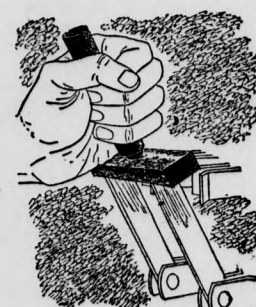

148,000 stockholders, mostly Californians, have put their savings in P. G. and E., becoming partners in one great enterprise. Few companies in the entire nation are more widely owned.

More than 7,000 jobs have been created by the expansion. This additional payroll has materially helped all sorts of business throughout the area we serve.

Still more generating plants, both steam and hydro, are being built to meet the growing demand. In 1948 alone nearly 70,000 new customers were connected to our lines!

It all adds up to the biggest power-building program in America today... going full speed ahead for the factories, farms and homes of Northern and Central California.

Work never stops on our power-building program

Practical Nurse License Bill To Be Introduced

To provide more safe nursing care for the public, a bill to permit State licensing of qualified practical nurses will be introduced at the forthcoming session of the Legislature, Miss May Heath, president of District No. 12, California State Nurses' Association, announced today.

The bill, sponsored by the California State Nurses' Association, official professional organization of registered nurses, has two objectives, according to Miss Heath: first, to enable the public to distinguish between competent practical nurses and those without training; second, to encourage development of a corps of "short course, second level" nurses, thus augmenting the State's supply of safe nursing care.

"Although it is hard to believe," said Miss Heath, "anyone may nurse for hire in California at the present time, without any training whatever."

"The Licensed Practical Nurse Bill, as it is known, will set up machinery to issue State licenses to practical nurses who desire them and who can meet certain qualifications. These nurses will be given the right to identify themselves by placing the letters 'L.M.P.' after their names, just as registered nurses distinguish themselves by the letters 'R.N.'"

"Licenses will be issued during the first year of the law to applicants with at least two years of nursing experience within the last five years who can furnish written recommendations; after the first year, to applicants who pass a State examination after a short course (nine to twelve months) in nursing."

"No one, however, who is now engaged in nursing for hire will be deprived of a livelihood by this bill. Those who do not desire State licenses or who cannot qualify for them may continue to nurse, but without State credentials."

"Twenty-five other states have similar practical nurse licensing legislation. California should now join their ranks by enacting this necessary law."

Literature describing the bill may be obtained from any nurse member of District No. 12 or at the District's headquarters: Nursing Bureau, Twoby Bldg., San Jose.

Pismo Beach Holds Annual Festival To Honor Clams

New Year's Eve and New Year's Day are celebrated in many ways along El Camino Real, but none is more unique and attractive than the Annual Clam Festival held at Pismo Beach.

Pismo Beach, as you may know, located on a beautiful bay of the blue Pacific about half-way between Los Angeles and San Francisco, is the home of the tasty clam which takes its name from the town—or vice versa — this writer doesn't know which. Since these clams are at their best during the winter season, several years ago the citizens of Pismo Beach inaugurated a mid-winter festival honoring Mr. Clam. Three years ago it was moved to New Year's Day and has proven to be quite a success.

The townspeople start off with a costume dance on New Year's Eve, and New Year's morning they have a Treasure Hunt. Empty clam shells bearing gift certificates are buried along the beach, and lucky finders win everything from small merchandise to money, radios, etc. Then the hunt for clams is on, with prizes for various sized clams. All day long Pismo Beach is host to the outside world with huge kettles of delicious, steaming-hot clam chowder set up along the beach to serve everyone all the chowder they can eat—for free. Some fun for one and all!

Other famous New Year's celebrations along El Camino Real include the colorful Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena with its wealth of floral-decorated floats, beautiful lassies, bands galore, and in fact, all the lovely fantasy that is possible to assemble in this favored land. Following the Rose Parade is the classic Rose Bowl football game with his year's teams being University of California upholding the honor of the West vs. Northwestern University of the Big Nine Conference.

Traditionally, San Francisco celebrates with the East-West football classic, a goodwill gesture from the city, the proceeds of the game going to the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children. What better way to start off the New Year than a gift to such a worthy cause!

Californians thought they might have cause to celebrate New Year's twice this year, in view of the change on January 1st from Daylight Savings Time back to Standard Time; but Governor Warren solved that problem most neatly by ordering the clocks turned back at 2 a.m. the morning of January 1, 1949.

Commander Beggs Will Visit Calif. On Official Tour

Commander-in-Chief Lyall T. Beggs of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States will pay an official seven-day visit to California starting January 2, when he will arrive in San Diego, it has been announced from state VFW headquarters here.

The 1948-49 head of more than 1,500,000 veterans of overseas service in three wars will tour the state in company with Commander Alvin F. Kime and Quartermaster-Adjutant M. C. Hermann of the department of California.

Their itinerary includes the following cities: San Diego, January 2; Los Angeles, January 3 and 4; Santa Barbara and Bakersfield, January 5; Fresno and Stockton, January 6; Sacramento and Redding, January 7 and San Francisco, January 8.

Highlights of the tour will be a conference in Sacramento January 7 with Governor Warren and Beggs' appearance before a joint session of the State Senate and Assembly, followed by a luncheon in honor of the VFW chief.

Beggs, a practicing attorney of Madison, Wis., was elected to head the Gold Chevron organization at the national convention last Sept. 3 at St. Louis, Mo.

He is a veteran of the first World war, formerly district attorney of Dane County, Wis., and onetime president of the Wisconsin district attorneys' association. He served in the Wisconsin legislature from 1940 to 1948.

Dress Alterations To Be Studied At Ag. Meeting

On Jan. 7, Mrs. Winifred Jeckers, Home Demonstration Agent for the Agricultural Extension Service, will demonstrate how to alternate dress patterns to fit problem figures. The meeting will be held at the Campbell Methodist Church from 10 a. m. to 12 p. m.

This is the first in a series of sewing helps, the next to be on dress finishes and individual pattern alterations; the second on short-cuts in making a dress and the last on pressing and pressing aids.

These meetings are open to all interested persons.

Feed Those Fowl Generously, Says Advisor Corrin

Feed your backyard poultry flock generously, says William R. Corrin, Assistant Farm Advisor, Santa Clara County, University of California, Agricultural Extension Service. You needn't waste feed, but good egg production depends upon generous feeding. Don't worry about the birds getting too fat. A good egg-producing hen will not get too fat to lay well. If a hen gets too fat, it's a sure sign she's a poor producer and should be killed for home consumption at once.

The problem of feeding a backyard flock is made easier by the fact that chickens over three months old can choose the feed they need when a variety of foods is placed before them. A good laying mash, a mixture of whole grains, and clean fresh water are the most important essentials of good poultry nutrition.

You should have grit available for the birds at all times. It helps them to grind the coarse feeds. Pebbles or granite grit will serve the purpose. Laying hens also need oyster shells or limestone grit to provide the calcium carbonate to make the eggshells.

Finally, the flock should receive tender green feed whenever it is available. Fresh lawn clippings, lettuce leaves, swiss chard, and beet or carrot tops make good green feed for chickens. Yellow carrots are good for them, too—they provide lots of vitamin A.

You can throw them your stale bread and other clean table scraps, as long as you are careful about spoiled meat or vegetables—they may kill the birds.

William Corrin believes there is no reason why a backyard poultry flock should be a burden or a complicated procedure. For those who are interested in starting such a project, he has several helpful leaflets available upon request at the local Agricultural Extension Service Office, 201 Post Office Building, San Jose, California.

Twenty District Scouters Hold Round Table

Twenty enthusiastic Campbell District Scouters met recently at Cambrian School, Headquarters of Troop 34, to discuss Scout activities and plans for the next couple of months.

The roll call revealed there were present representatives from nearly all of the Scout Troops in the District; Scoutmasters, Scouters, Institutional representatives, plus members of the District Committee together with Scout Council executives Chester D. Bartlett and Ken Robinson.

Scoutmaster Ed Carman started the ball rolling with an opening ceremony as used by his troop, by leading the group in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and recitation of the Scout Oath.

Charles Mitchell of the Cambrian District demonstrated the game of "Kim" as played by the Scouts throughout the country to develop their powers of observation and concentration.

After a few moments song fest, Ken Robinson led the group in a discussion of the most efficient method of transporting camping equipment, and demonstrated the fabrication of pack frames as a Scout handicraft activity. Other craft demonstrations were the fabrication of cooking utensils from tin cans of all sizes; the use of native materials, shells, wood, driftwood, cones, etc., in the making of useful as well as ornamental articles.

The fourth film of the Scout Education program depicting the place and usefulness of the Scout Troop to the community was shown followed by discussion led by Ken Robinson.

Future activities planned for the Scouts of this district are Boards of Review, January; Scout week celebrations, February 6 to 12; District Court of Honor, February 9; Scout Circus at San Jose Civic Auditorium, April 1 and 2.

The Boy Scouts of America is a Red Feather Agency of the Community Chest.

Campbell District Scouts Committee Holds Meeting

The correlation between the Scouting program and community activities, and how the Youth Group is benefitted by the Scouting program were the main topics of discussion of the recent meeting of the Campbell District Scout Committee recently held at Cambrian School under the Chairmanship of Laurance Hill, with Scout Executive Chester D. Bartlett of the local Scout Council office in attendance.

Plans were made for the inauguration of a Committeeman's Training Program in order to familiarize members with their duties on the District Scout Committee, and with Scouting in general in order to make the Scouting program of even greater value to the community.

District Court of Honor was arranged to be held on Wednesday, Feb. 9, time and place of this function to be announced later by Advancement Chairman Homer H. Hyde. Scoutmasters having Scouts eligible to receive the Eagle Award at this Court are requested to contact Hyde not later than Jan. 12 in order that Board of Review may be arranged in ample time to permit the award and papers to be received from the East.

Boards of Review for Star and Life awards may be arranged for a later date in January.

Next meeting of the District Scout Committee will be held on Thursday, Jan. 6, 1949, by which date it is anticipated the initial film of the educational program "Fundamentals of Scouting" will be available for showing.

Final Statements Go Out Soon To Calif. Taxpayers

Collector of Internal Revenue James G. Smyth of the First California District said today that Northern California taxpayers who were required to file declarations of estimated tax for 1948 will soon receive statements regarding the fourth and final payments on their declarations, which will be due on or before January 15, 1949.

The statement will be accompanied by an insert which will explain that, if the person has already paid as much as eighty per cent of his original estimate, he may disregard the notice; if he has not paid that much, or if he now discovers that he owes more than he anticipated when the declaration was originally filed, he may attach the full payment to the statement and return both to the Collector, without filing an amended estimate. This procedure is for the benefit of the individual who will not be ready to file a final return on or before January 15th, in lieu of amending his estimate, but who intends to file his final return after January 15th and before March 15th.

The reason for this procedure, is that, because of the reduction in tax rates, it is likely that most taxpayers will have overpaid their estimates, or will at least have paid sufficient so that the balance will not make a material difference; and the suggested procedure will somewhat simplify the task of the Collector, which is exceedingly heavy at this time of the year.

Marcel Dupre In Organ Recital Wednesday Eve

Marcel Dupre, most distinguished figure in the world of organ today, will appear in recital in the First Methodist Church in San Jose, Wednesday evening, Jan. 5, at 8:15 o'clock, under the auspices of the San Jose Chapter American Guild of Organists.

No organist of this generation has created so great a sensation as Marcel Dupre. He was organist of St. Vincent's Church in Rouen at twelve years of age; winner of the first prizes in piano, counterpoint, and organ at the Paris Conservatory at the ages of 19, 21 and 23; and organist at Notre Dame Cathedral at 30. In 1920, Dupre performed the almost incredible task of playing from memory the entire organ works of Bach in a series of ten extraordinary recitals at the Paris Conservatory. At his New York debut in the Wanamaker Auditorium in 1921, Dupre created a sensation by improvising a complete symphony in four movements upon themes presented to him but a few moments before. This performance was termed "a musical miracle."

Mr. Dupre has already played over 600 recitals here and well over a thousand recitals abroad. At this recital, Mr. Dupre will play a symphonic improvisation on a given theme submitted to him just before the improvisation begins, and which he will not have seen or heard before. He has also prepared for this concert a rare program of masterpieces of the old and modern masters as follows:

Passacaglia and Fugue in C Minor, Bach; Vision (Symphonic Poem Opus 44), Dupre; Variation on "Weinen, Klagen, Sorgen, Zagen", Liszt.

Prelude on a Theme in Gregorian Style, Delamarter; B Minor Chorale, Franck; Le Banquet Celeste; Prelude and Fugue in C Minor, Opus 36, Dupre; Symphonic Improvisation on a given theme.

Dupre's recital will be open to the public without admission charge, but an offering will be taken.

Christian Science Lesson-Sermon

"God" is the subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, January 2, with the Golden Text taken from II Samuel: "As for God, his way is perfect; the word of the Lord is tried; he is a buckler to all them that trust in him. For who is God, save the Lord? and who is a rock, save our God?" (22:31, 32).

The following citations are included in the sermon: The Bible: "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all" (I Chronicles 29:11).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Not materially but spiritually we know Him as divine Mind, as Life, Truth, and Love. We shall obey and adore in proportion as we apprehend the divine nature and love Him understandingly, warring no more over the corporeality, but rejoicing in the affluence of our God" (p. 140).

VETERANS QUESTION BOX

Veteran students who acquire dependents or additional dependents while in training under the GI Bill should notify Veterans Administration as soon as possible, so that VA can determine whether they are eligible for increased subsistence payments.

Notice of change in dependency status should be sent to the VA regional office in which the veteran's records are kept. The notice should be accompanied by legal evidence of dependents, such as a certified copy of public record of birth, baptism or marriage.

Subsistence payments will be increased as of the date legal evidence is received by VA, and will not be made retroactive to the date the veteran actually acquired the dependent.

Monthly subsistence allowances for veterans studying full time in school are $75 for those without dependents, $105 for those with one dependent, and $120 for those with more than one dependent.

Any veteran whose eligibility for GI Bill education runs out after he completes at least half of a school semester which is normal in cost may complete the remainder of the semester at government expense, Veterans Administration said.

The veteran also will receive subsistence allowances for the remainder of the semester.

Veterans studying under the GI Bill who want to transfer to another school at the end of the winter semester should notify the Veterans Administration at least 30 days before they intend to make the change.

To enroll in a new school, VA said, a student-veteran must have a supplemental certificate of eligibility. He also must have a statement from his present school showing his progress there has been satisfactory.

A veteran may obtain a supplemental certificate of eligibility by applying to the VA regional office where his records are on file.

QUESTION: I intend to enter school under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act in January. When should I apply for my certificate of eligibility?

ANSWER: If you wish to enter training under the GI Bill, you should apply for your certificate of eligibility at least 30 days before the enrollment date.

Mrs. Robert McCall will sing a soprano solo at the 11 o'clock worship service Sunday morning at the Methodist Church. Mrs. McCall has selected the composition by Van de Water, "The Good Shepherd" as her solo. Mrs. McCall is a graduate of the music department of San Jose State College, and has had a wide experience in directing children's, youth and adult choirs.

The pastor, the Rev. L. J. Osborne, will speak on the subject, "The New Year, A Gift of God." Mrs. Edith H. Van Rossem will play the organ for the service, and the choir will sing the introit and the choral benediction.

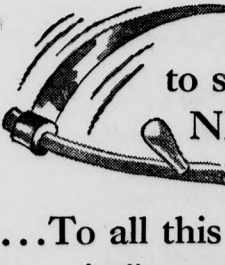

The Board of Education of the church will hold its monthly meeting at 3 p.m. Sunday afternoon, and the Official Board will meet at 4 o'clock.

The pot-luck dinner planned by the group for December 29 has been postponed.

Regular MYF meetings are held at the church on Sunday evenings at 7:00 p.m. All high school or college age young people are welcome.

4-H Members Inaugurate New Leader Program

Seventeen older 4-H club members met Wednesday, December 29, at the Almaden School to inaugurate a new phase of the 4-H Club program. This part of the youth program will be known as the Junior League program. It is designed for the older boys and girls already enrolled in a 4-H club project, and is new to this county. It has been in operation for several years in other sections of the state.

Boys and girls enrolling in this program must be at least 15 years of age and enrolled in a regular 4-H Club project.

The Junior Leader project is being sponsored by the Santa Clara County 4-H Club Council. It was originally discussed by the council during its October meeting. A committee composed of Al Athenour, Almaden, Chairman; Bill Britton, Paradise Valley; and Mrs. Ed Scott, San Martin. This committee investigated the program and advised older club members throughout the county to make application to become Junior Leaders. Later the committee considered the applications of 19 older boys and girls. After considering the applications, they approved 17.

The real purpose of the Junior Leader project is two-fold. First it will enable these older club members to become more efficient leaders, and secondly, the program is designed to check the present loss of young club members who fail to re-enroll after the first year of club work.

The first purpose will appeal to the older youths. They will be given training and will be suitably recognized as Junior Leaders by providing an opportunity to attend conferences and by publicity as a result of their efforts.

The duties of the Junior Leader will be to enroll or assume responsibility for three or more first or second year club members. The young leaders will see that the club members under his care get project material and that his project is started promptly. The leader will also visit each member's home at regular intervals, helping with record books, and finally assisting in the completion of the books. The Junior Leader will also arrange for his member's participation in club meetings, field days, and fair.

The club members whose applications were approved by the council committee are: Tom Capelli and Donna Lee Manning, Adams; Harold Laswell and Walter Walsh, Madrone; Clara Schiermeyer, Dorothy Scott and Ed Leal, San Martin; Douglas Melott, Catherine Matasci and Wayne Pearson, Almaden; Ida Vogel and Bob Mercer, Rucker; Richard Rodriguez, Paradise Valley; Billy Chavez, Mt. Pleasant; and Joyce Gerdtz, Evergreen.

DDT Dust Helps Increase Crops

Dusting a lygus infested ladino clover field with DDT brought at least a 30 per cent increase in yield in a case recorded by Luther G. Jones, agronomist in the University of California on the Davis campus.

A farmer in Sacramento County discontinued grazing ladino clover

An all day cook-out was held by the Odakonya Campfire group under the leadership of Mrs. D. W. Ribble, Nov. 20. The girls prepared and cooked their breakfast at the home of Joan Oser and after breakfast the group hiked to the home of Pat Means where they cooked their lunch out of doors. Dolores Solari's home was the last stop and there the girls cooked their dinner. Every one stated they enjoyed the day very much.

On Dec. 4 the girls went to Campfire headquarters to pass their Woodgatherer's rank. Those passing were Joan Oser, Nancy Titus, Elizabeth Ribble, Nadine Babb, Jacqueline Silberbauer, Virginia Kinsilia, Arlene Coutinho, Vivian Andres, Dolores Solari, Ethel Seabock, Judy Zimmerman, Pat Means, Marilyn Herferd and Sandra Howard.

On Dec. 23 the girls held a Mother's Tea at the home of their leader, Mrs. Ribble. The program included a solo by Judy Zimmerman accompanied by Ethel Seabock. Also giving selections were Joan Oser and Nancy Titus. The girls put on a play directed by Nabine Babb.

The girls presented their mothers with Christmas gifts which they had made, and refreshments were served. Present at the party were members of the group and their mothers.

preparatory to seed production on June 15. Approximately five weeks later he found all 400 acres heavily infested with lygus. A count showed an average of 18 insects per sweep. About one third of the acreage was dusted with 5 per cent DDT, using 30 pounds per acre. Three days after dusting the lygus count was repeated. While on untreated areas the count averaged 20 bugs a sweep, the dusted portion of the field had less than one lygus per sweep.

Gardner Letters Reveal Life In California In 1851

"The climate throughout California is reported to be the healthiest in the world . . . And such are the reports, the very flattering reports, which I hear . . . that it has given me the California Fever, the hardest kind, and nothing but a voyage will cure it, and this is what I am going to do."

This is not a testimonial volunteered to the All-Year Club but an excerpt from a letter written by Walter Gardner of Boston, Mass., to his parents in the nearby town of Harvard back in 1851.

A collection of the Gardner letters, owned by his great nephew in Greenfield, Mass., was published in the November issue of the Pacific Historical Review. The published letters were edited by the Review's managing editor, Dr. John W. Caughey, professor of history at the University of California at Los Angeles.

They follow the meteoric rise of the 19-year-old youth from the clerkship in a San Francisco store to ownership of a $10,000 share in a quartz mine at Grand Ledge. The mine failed and wiped out Gardner's plans for a return in grand style to New England.

The last letter in the collection ended on an optimistic note: "to remain here in California and try it again." History doesn't record whether he made good or not.

At harvest time, according to the farmer, the yield of the dusted area was one third greater in sacks per acre than the undusted part, and the clean-out was about 20 per cent less.

"Dusting under these conditions," the College of Agriculture agronomist comments, "seems very profitable for the production of ladino clover was increased from about 75 to 120 pounds of clean seed per acre."
